Mission of Transpower Electric is to develop ethically grounded, professional committed service provider, with young and devoted engineers who can add values to organizations and professional communities in this dynamic construction field.

Transpower Electric was established in the year 1980 by C. Shashidhar. Before venturing to electrical contracting business, he worked for M/s. Voltas Limited, electrical division, for their work site at 220kV / 33kV master unit substation at Kudremukh Iron Ore project. As a trainee he underwent extensive training in erection, installation, testing and commissioning of HV, EHV equipments such as power transformers, MOCBs, isolators, control and relay panels etc., he was involved in start-up and commissioning of 20 Nos. of 20 MVA, 33/6.6kV plant transformer substations.

After a tough & rugged field experience at Kudremukh work site he had to leave the organization due to his transfer to northeast frontier of the country. He undertook a job at reputed electrical consultancy firm based in Bangalore engaged in power system design & project management. While working as an Electrical Engineer, he had the exposure to designing of lighting, power, earthing system associated with projects such as fatty acid plants, machine shop, textile machinery, pharmaceutical research laboratory, large residential colonies and group housing electrification which also included preparation of equipment specifications, installation specifications, Bill of Quantities and also start up and commissioning related works.

The result of the rich field experience and design exposure reinforced the confidence to undertake varieties of contract works. The major works that were carried out to the corporate clients includes various environment such as heavy, medium and small industries, Five Star hotels, commercial institutions, commercial complexes, laboratories, research centers, software tech park and computer centers and lastly large group housing and residential colonies apart from Annual Maintenance Contracts.

Our list of esteemed clients and the various projects that were carried out since inception speaks for itself. In fact since 2½ decade, the firm has done almost every type of electrical installation which was possible on account of its consistency, hard work, team spirit, dedication, sincerity with honest attitude to its customers.

❖ Retrofitting & Revamping

When it comes to completing jobs on time, on budget and according to customer's exact specifications, TRANSPOWER has an unbeatable reputation. For a customer, that means the cost of retrofitting, revamping, updating or new high-tech constructions can be significantly reduced in terms of lost revenue, lost productivity and lost time spend over seeing the work. TRANSPOWER is capable to start-to-finish electrical installations of any kind, size or technical complexity. As business become increasingly reliant on high-tech processing, data services, telecommunications and other computer – intensive applications, TRANSPOWER has expanded its expertise in these areas to ensure that customers can operate these systems with complete confidence.
